IMÈNGI

The collection ,A vo sù, a vo giò' as presented at the Salone Internazionale del Mobile 2012 is based on the idea of orchestrating a confined space with a few pieces that meet essential human needs by means of their unassuming multi-purpose properties. Imèngi is a simple oblong table, with a top made from two opposing layers of solid red cedarwood slabs, similar to the Idròmi. Hidden in the tabletop is a low drawer. Four slender, cylindrical aluminium rods form the legs, lending an airy feel to the top.
